

Propertypoint advanced and unique real estate search engine.

At-a-glance and concise view of property listings

Location, location, location as the saying goes is the most important quality a property has; Propertypoint takes this saying to heart by generating a unique and easy to navigate map showing available properties and their prices. Users can find and view properties based on attributes (price, bedrooms, location, etc.) as well as by navigating on a map.

- Customizable map of available properties
- Advanced search and categorization
- Degree of Interest Ranking
- Auto-Notification

Map View

Advanced Search and Ranking

Propertypoint allows the user to save selected properties and rank them by degree of interest and then gives them the power to review and generate a map of the selected properties at any time. The Advanced Search feature gives the user the ability to conduct highly customized searches to further streamline selection process.

Property Search and Selection Processing

Automatic Notification

Propertypoint also provides a customizable notification system that notifies users by email when properties matching their search criteria become available. This system also notifies the properties listing agent when a match is made. Visit the demo:

www.technoir.net/propertypoint

Advanced Search Features